

Wescan Calibration 90 Day Calibration Warranty

Wescan Calibration warrants all of its calibrations (measurements) for 90 days after the calibration service is performed.

If we have certified that your instrument is measuring within its determined specifications (whether manufacturer or customer defined), and you feel it is not measuring properly, please let us know. We will gladly evaluate the item to determine if its fault could be related to the calibration service*. Wescan will recalibrate the item at no charge if the problem is related to the service we performed (within 90 days of service).

Notes: In most cases, the act of calibration does not require us to open, disassemble, or otherwise modify your equipment. Should any adjustment be necessary that requires our technician to open your equipment, your written authorization will be required before we can proceed. Wescan's warranty does not cover repairs.
